Cliburn at the Modern February 13 at 2pm

The music of American composer Ben Moore—who will be on hand to hear and discuss his works at this afternoon concert—has been performed by many leading singers, including soprano Deborah Voigt, mezzo-sopranos Susan Graham and Frederica von Stade, tenors Lawrence Brownlee and Robert White, baritone Nathan Gunn, and six-time Tony winner Audra McDonald. His work has been called “brilliant” and “gorgeously lyrical” by The New York Times, while Opera News has praised the “easy tunefulness” and “romantic sweep” of his songs. His first opera, Enemies, A Love Story, premiered at the Palm Beach Opera in February 2015.

For information and tickets, call 817-212-4280 or visit www.cliburn.org/event/ben-moore-composer.

Skyline 360 Tours

Creatures of LIGHT: Nature's Bioluminescence

Through February 21

Perot Museum of Nature and Science

2201 N. Field Street

Dallas, Texas 75201

Creatures of Light: Nature's

Bioluminescence explores the natural phenomenon of 'living light' with a vast array of organisms, from the flickering fireflies in your backyard to the deep-sea fishes in our oceans' darkest depths. The ability to generate light is rare among plants and animals that live on land. However, up to 90 percent of animals at depths below 2,300 feet provide the only source of light for the largest habitable space on Earth, the ocean.

Spark your curiosity with larger-than-life models, live fish, and interactive displays in this exhibition! You will be able to move through a series of re-created environments to discover the glowworm webs on the ceiling of New Zealand's Waitomo caves, the 'pyrotechnic' plankton in Puerto Rico's Mosquito Bay, and special lighting on the coral walls of the Cayman Island's Bloody Bay. Use iPads featuring videos, photographs, and more to discover the diversity of bioluminescent creatures.

Creatures of Light will help you answer questions of how these organisms use light to attract mates, lure prey, or fight off predators. Learn where, why, and how scientists study these amazing creatures that glow. Don't miss your chance to experience this captivating world!

Contact your concierge to obtain discount tickets to the Perot Museum for only $10 per ticket, (Reg / $12-$15).
