To Open

Foodseum (109 North Dearborn) The city's first food-centric museum will display its first full exhibit on the second floor of the Block 37 shopping mall starting September 19th and running through December 20. Foodseum founder and executive director Kyle Joseph is calling the debut exhibit a teaser for when he and his staff eventually find a permanent home. The debut exhibit will be "The Hot Dog and Encased Meats of the World." Visitors will be able to smell the spices that go into 23 different sausages, as the Foodseum promotes interactivity. They'll even offer food samples during a few select weekends. Admission is free, and they'll be open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Wednesday through Sunday.

Method Greenhouse (East 111th) built by the New York-based company Gotham Greens, it will use 20 times less land and 10 times less water than a standard agricultural system with the same output. Once fully operational, the greenhouse will grow over 1 million pounds of pesticide-free greens, including kale, arugula, bok choy and butterhead lettuce annually. Gotham Greens will distribute the produce to local stores, farmer's markets and restaurants. The greenhouse is just the latest of Method's many environmentally-friendly innovations. The "ecological factory" is outfitted with three solar "trees," which move to follow the sun, and a 230 ft. tall wind turbine. Collectively, on-site renewable energy sources supply the factory with one-third of all its power.
